How to read this page

Sample company. These aren't your numbers.

Marketing. Planned $117.2K. Actual Not recorded. Variance Not recorded. Sourced pipeline $24.2M. Profit created $1.2M. Channel ROI 2.81. Spend is not the Profit Bridge number. Jan 15–Dec 15, 2025. Quads come from the invoice file. The profit and loss statement is the sum of those invoices.

A blank stays off. Nothing here posts.

Where this stands

Spend follows profit. Campaigns are aimed at Core. Pipeline is a leading measure. Only an approved, attributed win that is not already on Sales reaches the Profit Bridge. Copy is drafted, never sent.

Grow the repeat machined parts. Do not pour spend into custom one-offs that lose money.

On the Profit Bridge: $117.2K.

PGOS does not print or mail this book.

Which channel holds the profit

Jan 15–Dec 15, 2025. Attributed profit by channel. Each bar is one channel. The dollar is approved attributed profit on that channel. A blank dollar stays off. A channel marked unknown stays off. The longest bar holds the most profit. Nothing posts.

Each bar is one channel. The length is that channel's approved attributed profit beside the largest on this chart. A blank dollar stays off. A channel marked unknown stays off. The chart shows the eight largest. The rest stay on the file. The dollar does not post.

Nothing here posts.

1 more channel holds profit. It stays on the file.

Attributed profit

Which company holds the attributed win

This year. Each bar is an approved attributed win for one company. A blank stays off. A loss stays off. A known zero stays on. A win already on the sales file stays off. The longest bar holds the most. Nothing here posts.

Each bar is profit already approved as an attributed win this year. A win that sales already counts stays off. A blank stays off. A loss stays off. A known zero stays on the chart. Two wins for the same company are one bar. The longest bar holds the most. The chart shows the eight largest. The rest stay on the list. Nothing posts until a named person approves it.

Which campaign is over its budget

Jan 15–Dec 15, 2025. The current book. Each bar is how far a campaign is over its budget. A campaign under its budget stays off. A campaign on its budget stays as zero. A blank budget or spend stays off. The longest bar is the furthest over. Nothing here posts.

Each bar is spend minus the budget already named on that campaign. A campaign under its budget stays off. It is not drawn as a negative. A campaign that has spent its budget exactly stays as zero. A blank budget or a blank spend stays off. Two spellings of the same name are one bar. The longest bar is the furthest over. The chart shows the eight largest. The rest stay on the campaign list. Nothing posts.

Pipeline and approved impact

Pipeline. $24.2M. Pipeline is not on the Profit Bridge.

Approved Profit Bridge impact. $117.2K. Approved Profit Bridge impact posts only after a person approves it.

Demand follows profit. Put the spend on the slices that hold the profit. Core gets the campaigns. The tail, and any work that loses money, does not. A campaign aimed at the tail needs a written exception before it can go live.

Channel ROI. Channel ROI is profit created divided by spend. It is a reading. It is not a Profit Bridge dollar. Cost per lead is a reading too. A thin history says there are not enough wins yet.

Pipeline and approved impact. Pipeline is a leading measure. A pipeline dollar never changes the Profit Bridge. Approved Profit Bridge impact is a sourced dollar, and it posts only after a person approves it. A dollar already on Sales is kept for the ROI reading and is not added again.

Channel test

2026-10. No channel names a cost-per-lead ceiling. The cost-per-lead lines use the months already on the file. A channel test stays a draft. Nothing is emailed.

Sourced and attributed

Jan 15–Dec 15, 2025. Sourced pipeline and attributed profit on the current book. Each pair is one channel. Sourced is the sourced dollar on the channel. Attributed is approved profit tied to that channel. A blank sourced dollar stays off. The longest bar is the highest dollar.

Sourced is the pipeline dollar stored on the channel. Attributed is approved profit tied to that same channel. When a sourced dollar is on the file and no win is approved, attributed shows as zero. A blank sourced dollar stays off the chart. Nothing on this chart posts.

Nothing on this chart posts.

Spend versus pipeline and profit created

Pipeline is a leading measure. ROI is a reading. Neither is the Profit Bridge line.

Core spend 77%. Tail spend 2%.
